

Parsons and Schotte named valedictorians

Emily McIntosh
Editor-In-Chief

One of this year's two valedictorians is Judy Lynn Parsons. The daughter of Gene and Jan Parsons, Judy participated in Pep Club, SADD, Foreign Frogs, art, golf, and NHS while at Pratt High. Next year Judy plans on attending Bethany College in Lindsborg, KS, majoring in biology with pre-vet intentions. She received a scholarship from the Kansas Junior Livestock Association, a Bethany academic scholarship, and a scholarship from the Scholarship Agriculture future of America. Her favorite high school memories happened in the art room, and her favorite quote is "Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened."

Christine Ann Schotte is the second of this year's valedictorians. Her parents are Michael and Barbara Schotte. During high school, Christine participated in tennis, band, NHS, and Foreign Frogs, and Scholar's Bowl. Next year she plans to attend Concordia University in Wisconsin. She received Concordia's academically based Presidential scholarship. When asked about her favorite high school memory, Christine said she enjoyed playing in the band with friends at Friday night football and basketball games. Christine said her dream job would be to become a world traveler. Her favorite quote is "Take one day at a time- just let life happen."

Logan Shoup

Shoup sole salutatorian

Emily McIntosh
Editor-In-Chief

Logan Shoup is the class of 2007's salutatorian. His parents are Mark Shoup and Rose Beilman. While in high school, Logan participated in NHS, Sigma, Science Club, cross country, and track. Logan plans to attend Hillsdale

College next year and major in either biology or history. He received a Pratt Medical Society scholarship and a Hillsdale Merit Scholarship. His favorite memory during high school was his camping trip in Colorado. Logan's dream job is a fighter pilot, and his favorite quote is, "When you come to the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on."

Congratulations to Ian Howard, voted Class Speaker for 2007.

Goodbye from the Editors

We, The Editors-in-Chief of the Pratt High School newspaper, had a wonderful time bringing you this year's Mirror. There has been both good and bad news to report, along with tons of crazy features. Thanks for picking up the Mirror- even if you just read the Horrorscopes or checked to see who was in "Mirror Mirror". We couldn't have made this year successful without you, the readers. We hope you had as much fun reading the paper as we did making it!

Mrs. Shinkle retires

Katie Walters
Staff Writer

Janet Shinkle lectures her class about "The Globe," Shakespeare's theatre.

(Photo by: Neil Goss)

Janet Shinkle has been a member of the PHS staff for 17 years. But, that's not the only place she's worked. For three years she was at Skyline, then over at LMS as a special education teacher for a year. She's also worked at South West and Haskins, then at PCC. When asked why she wanted to be a teacher Shinkle said, "In college I realized that when I learned something new, I was excited about it and that I wanted to share what I knew with someone else." Her education consists of getting her AA at Independence Community College, and then moving on to get her BSE and

MA at Emporia State.

Her favorite memory of Pratt High is that, "I've been in the same room all 17 years. For the most part, the room is still arranged the same way as always. I'll always remember my room. It's been a second home." Her retirement plans include working part-time, but mostly to scrapbook, quilt, play with model trains, travel, and enjoy being home. Even though she's going to enjoy the retired life, she'll still miss "...the excitement of the first day of school and getting my room ready for a new group of freshmen."

Mr. Kuhn steps down

Andrew Taylor
Editor-In-Chief

Pratt High Principal Tim Kuhn will soon shed the title of principal as he retires from the post following this school year. He has been an instrumental part of PHS for the past six years and he will be sorely missed after his departure. Before his work at the high school began, he also worked at Liberty Middle School and spent some time at Lacrosse High School.

Kuhn attended college at Fort Hays State University. He discovered his passion for teaching while instructing history classes and working with students in their activities.

He has had many fond memories while working for this high school, but he will especially remember graduation time. "It's a special time for students and their families," said Kuhn. He will also especially miss the thrill of Pratt High's school activities.

Upon entering his retirement Kuhn will enjoy traveling, catching up with all of his numerous hobbies, and spending time with his grandchildren.

We all wish Tim Kuhn the best of luck in his future.

Mr. Harris Entering Retirement

Elizabeth Short
Staff Writer

Bill Harris, building administrator at the Productivity Academy, is one of the teachers retiring at the end of this year. He attended Kansas University where he received his Bachelor's degree and Fort Hays State University. He worked at Medicine Lodge before coming to Pratt, where he has spent the last 19 years teaching and helping students.

He said, "I always liked school and I never had much trouble getting something communicated to others." His favorite memory at Pratt High is watching the excitement of the seniors at graduation. He's going to miss the association with the staff and students at Pratt High, and he plans to spend his retirement by devoting more time to his farm.

Long time English teacher retiring

Ana Whitson
Staff Writer

After twenty-four years of teaching at Pratt High, Joy Kahmeyer is retiring. She first attended PCC, then transferred to KSU, and finally transferred to the University of Vermont. Kahmeyer was inspired to be a teacher by wanting to impact young lives; she also thinks that teaching keeps a person young in mind and spirit. She has not only taught at Pratt High School; she first started at Kingman High School. When asked what her favorite memory of Pratt High is, she said, "Impossible to limit to one—all the voices of kids echoing in the halls and in my memories." She plans to spend her retirement writing a cookbook, continuing working at her accounting office, and enjoying being Mrs. Glen Davis. Even though she will be busy enjoying life out of Pratt High, she is going to miss being greeted with a 'Hey, Miss K.' Ms. Kahmeyer has had huge impact on this school and students and will be well missed.

...Reasons You Know School is Almost Out

10. It's snowing?!
9. All of a sudden, you're having a REALLY hard time paying attention in class.
8. There is a "School Days Left" countdown in every room in the school.
7. There is a "School Days Left For Seniors" countdown in every room in the school.
6. You're more inclined to go to a concert than to sports practice.
5. Suddenly everyone that used to have white skin, is now a nice dark brown color.
4. Even with the cold weather, shorts are the favored dress.
3. For the last week you have watched some sort of movie in at least one class every day.
2. You are frantically trying to finish all missing assignments at the last minute for a somewhat decent grade.
1. You've calculated how many hours, minutes, and even SECONDS are left until summer vacation.

If there's one thing I've learned throughout my four years of high school, it's that people love to tell you their opinions. Not only does www.likebetter.com let you express your opinion, it tells you about the thought process behind it. The basic idea behind the website is that you choose which of two selected photos you like better. After a few simple choices, the website's "brain" will tell you a random prediction about your personality. For example, it said I prefer dogs to cats. And if given the choice, I'd choose to become a pirate over an assassin. For some fun learning a little bit about yourself- and to see a few good pictures, visit www.likebetter.com.

Aquarius- Today your fortune cookie will simply say "Ouch."

Pisces- The planets say that you will be attacked by a large chipmunk with rabies.

Aries- Today you will be touring a book factory when you spill acid on a pile of the seventh Harry Potter book, destroying every copy that was to be delivered to the United States.

Taurus- Today, while swimming, you will gain the ability to breath underwater. The catch, your legs are turned to stone.

Gemini- You've had a full life, right?

Cancer- You will correctly interpret the lyrics to The Kingsmen's "Louie, Louie."

Eric and Joe's Horror-scopes

Leo- You decide that you don't like spicy food tonight after your friends trick you into eating a chip covered in hot sauce 50,000 times hotter than a jalapeño pepper.

Virgo- You discover your special talent today; unfortunately it is being able to count to four faster than anyone else. Have fun with that.

Libra- Today you will win an all-expense-paid trip to the middle of the ocean. Boat and floatation device not included.

Scorpio- You will be run over by a Cadillac. At least you'll die in style!

Sagittarius- You will find out how many roads a man must actually walk down. Unfortunately, that number is 10,742 and you must actually walk the entirety of each of them.

Capricorn- The stars say that you will either graduate or win $349 million in the lottery, we don't know which.

NeNe & CoCo's NEVERENDING ADVENTURES

Starring: Neil Goss and Courtney Witten, with photography help by Meghan Connelly

After coming within an inch of being murdered by Nemesissy, Ne Ne and Co Co remained passed out and appearing dead for 19 hours. Gaining energy in small amounts, they make their way to their feet with nothing in mind except getting back to Nemesissy's lair and ending this horrible feud.

Once NeCo gained full consciousness and the drive to fight, they find the direction they should go to return to Nemesissy's. Co Co had a little more drive than Ne Ne, however.

After walking for a solid hour, Ne Ne and Co Co arrive at Nemesissy's lair. NeCo wanted the fight to occur outside so they remained there hiding until Nemesissy needed some fresh air.

Caught off guard, Nemesissy burst out of the back door and immediately attacked Ne Ne. In the midst of the surprise attack, Co Co faded to the background and was nowhere to be found, but was definitely needed in this battle with Nemesissy.

Ne Ne put up a good fight for about two minutes. Nemesissy then slipped in a perfect elbow, catching Ne Ne far too near his temple and knocking him clean out. This looks as if it is the end for poor Ne Ne.

Nemesissy raised his staff, about to end Ne Ne forever. Then, out of the side hatch, Co Co quietly approaches Nemesissy. She knows she must act fast before he kills Ne Ne.

As Nemesissy lifted his staff to kill Ne Ne, Co Co attacked. A simple, yet elegant, ear grab was performed that distracted Nemesissy and ended his attempt to murder Ne Ne.

Nemesissy hit Co Co with a mind-bending backhand, throwing her away. As Nemesissy gloated about his power, Ne Ne had awoken. He did the first thing he could think to do, he shot Nemesissy with the only murderous mind-power he knew, The Starry Burbicle. Right as the beams shot from Ne Ne's hands, Nemesissy swung his staff again.

To NeCo's favor, Ne Ne's starry shot hit first, killing and ending this tiresome feud between NeCo and Nemesissy. Co Co gave him a poke with the staff, to ensure his death I guess.

After fighting for five issues, Ne Ne and Co Co needed a break, a vacation. They decided to take a small walk through the country before heading home. Vast green, grassy fields elate NeCo on their journey home.

After crossing the never-ending grass field, NeCo ran into some sand hills that they had to climb around. They didn't immediately leave however, they had fun racing to the top of the hills then jumping off.

THE ADVENTURE CONTINUES ON THE NEXT PAGE!
